

Sandy van Teeseling
The Netherlands

Dr. Sandy van Teeseling maintains a private orthodontic practice in Haarlem since 1984. He studied dentistry at the Free University in Amsterdam and received his orthodontic training at the University of Nijmegen (1979 - 1983). At present he is also affiliated at the department of Oral and Maxillo-Facial Surgery at the VU Medical Centre and the Academic Medical Centre both in Amsterdam where he is involved in the interdisciplinary management of orthognathic patients. Furthermore he is staff member at the Orthodontic Department of the University Medical Centre Groningen where he is involved in teaching and training of orthodontic residents. He is a member of several interdisciplinary teams managing and treating complex dental patients and he gives lectures and courses on the subject, with emphasis on the orthodontic aspects.